

High Level Panel on the Future of the Development Assistance Committee

Final proposal by the DAC Chair

Mary Robinson – Chair

Mary Robinson is President of the Mary Robinson Foundation – Climate Justice. She served as President of Ireland from 1990-1997 and UN High Commissioner for Human Rights from 1997-2002. She is a member of the Elders and the Club of Madrid and the recipient of numerous honours and awards including the Presidential Medal of Freedom from the President of the United States Barack Obama. In May 2016 Mary was appointed by the UN Secretary General as his Special Envoy on El Niño and Climate. She sits on the advisory board of Sustainable Energy For All (SE4All) and is also a member of the Lead Group of the Scaling Up Nutrition (SUN) Movement. Between 2013 and 2015 Mary served as the UN Secretary General’s Special Envoy in two roles; first for the Great Lakes region of Africa and then on Climate Change.

A former President of the International Commission of Jurists and former chair of the Council of Women World Leaders she was President and founder of Realizing Rights: The Ethical Globalization Initiative from 2002-2010 and served as Honorary President of Oxfam International from 2002-2012.

Mary Robinson serves as Patron of the Board of the Institute of Human Rights and Business, is an honorary member of The B Team, in addition to being a board member of several organisations including the Mo Ibrahim Foundation and the European Climate Foundation. She serves as Chancellor of the University of Dublin since 1998. Mary’s memoir, Everybody Matters was published in September 2012.

Michael Anderson

Michael Anderson CB is Visiting Fellow at the Centre for Global Development. From 2013 to 2016 he was CEO of the Children’s Investment Fund Foundation, a UK philanthropy focused on the well-being of children in Africa and South Asia.

He was previously the Special Envoy for Prime Minister Cameron on the UN Development Goals, and the UK policy lead on development issues leading up to the UK-hosted G8 summit in June 2013. He served in the UK Department for International Development for twelve years, where he was Director General of Policy and Global Programmes after leading programmes in the India, Middle East, on conflict prevention, and the rule of law. He has previously served as a Commissioner on the UN Commission for Life-Saving Commodities, a member of the Family Planning 2020 Reference Group, and co-chair of the DAC-UNDP-WB Joint Learning and Advisory Group on Difficult Partnerships.

Before joining DFID, he was the Director of Studies at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law, a policy think tank and training centre, and a Fellow at the London School of Economics and Political Science. In 2000, he cofounded Bazian Ltd., a company that specializes in statistical products for evidence-based medicine. From 1988 to 2002 he worked with a series of law firms providing advice on cross-border litigation, international disputes, human rights, trade law, and environmental law. Mr. Anderson holds degrees in political science, social anthropology, and law from the universities of London, Oxford, and Washington. He was awarded the President’s Medal at the University of Washington and was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford.

He is a Board member for the Global Innovation Fund, the Global Alliance for Improved Nutrition, the Power of Nutrition, and the Open Society Foundations Fiscal Governance Advisory Board.

Alicia Bárcena

Ms. Bárcena assumed office as the Executive Secretary of the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) on 1 July 2008. She had previously served as the Under-Secretary-General for Management at United Nations Headquarters in New York, Chef de Cabinet and Deputy Chef de Cabinet to the former Secretary-General, Mr. Kofi Annan. Alicia Bárcena held the post of Deputy Executive Secretary and Director of ECLAC's Environment and Human Settlements Division.

Prior to her time at ECLAC, Ms. Bárcena served as Co-ordinator of the Latin American and Caribbean Sustainable Development Programme of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), responsible for the Environmental Citizenship Project at the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP).

Alicia Bárcena holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology, and holds a Master degree in Public Administration from Harvard University.

Emma Bonino

Emma Bonino is a former Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs. She also served as Vice-Chair of the Italian Senate. She has been Minister for International Trade and European Affairs. First elected to the Italian Chamber of Deputies in 1976, she has served either in the Italian or in the European Parliament. Between 1994 and 1999, she was EU Commissioner for Humanitarian Aid, Fisheries, Consumer Policy, Consumer Health Protection and Food Safety. As a Commissioner, she confronted the major man-made crises of the 1990s, which resulted in millions of refugees and displaced persons, including in the Great Lakes Region and in the Balkans. Emma Bonino spent four years in Egypt, where she was a Distinguished Visiting Professor at the American University of Cairo. As part of her work in the region, in January 2004, she headed the political process that led to the Sana'a InterGovernmental Regional Conference on Democracy, Human Rights and the Role of the ICC. Since 2003, she has also been campaigning against female genital mutilations and for the adoption of UNGA Resolution banning this practice worldwide. Her conviction that the rule of law is a pre-requisite for the protection of vulnerable people finds expression in her commitment to the development and strengthening of the international criminal justice system, with the establishment of the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda, and for the establishment of the ICC. She is co-Chair of the European Council on Foreign Relations.

Luisa Dias Diogo

Former Prime Minister and Minister of Finance, Mozambique.

Luísa Diogo was Prime Minister of Mozambique from 2004-2010, she was the country's first female Prime Minister. Before becoming Prime Minister In her Country she served as Minister of Planning and Finances for five years. During her turner she led the process of Economic Reforms and transformation that required several changes in the delivery of support from the International Community to Mozambican Budget. As a Minister of Planning of Finances, she had the opportunity to interact with International partners including the OECD Countries. Recently Diogo has focused on the High Level Panel of Eminent Persons on the Future of the African Development Fund, she is also serving as a Deputy Chair of the African Foundation for alternative resources to Finance the African Union.

Jean-Christophe Donnellier

Jean-Christophe Donnellier is the current Chairman of the board of Expertise France: the French agency in charge of international technical cooperation. Here, he is in charge of coordinating French expertise in multilateral and bilateral programs in partner countries, including fragile states and crisis and post-crisis contexts. As French interministerial coordinator for technical cooperation, he is also working at fostering cooperation with development banks, other implementing agencies and private bodies, national and foreign. Mr. Donnellier has chaired between 2014 and 2015, Eunida: the European network for the implementation of agencies in the field of technical cooperation (including GIZ, FFIAP, BTC...). Previously, Jean-Christophe Donnellier worked as Minister Counselor at the French delegation to the OECD from 2011 to 2014, where he was the French DAC delegate, and in 2013 he was elected vice chairman of the Development Assistance Committee. Appointed Undersecretary in charge of external relations in February 2007, he has worked as a close counselor to Christine Lagarde, then Minister for economy and Anne-Marie Idrac Minister in charge of external trade, on international and bilateral economic issues. During his tenure, he also became the French representative to the European Committee in charge of trade policy, which he chaired when France gained the presidency of the European Council in 2008.

Jean-Christophe Donnellier was born in Bordeaux, France, in 1959. He graduated from Ecole Polytechnique (1980) and ENSAE (1984). He is the father of three: Marion, Margaux and Arthur

Douglas Frantz

Deputy Secretary-General (DSG) Douglas Frantz took up his duties at the OECD on 2 November 2015. DSG Frantz is former US Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs and also worked for then-Senator John Kerry as chief investigator and deputy staff director of the US Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was previously a newspaper reporter and editor for more than 35 years. As DSG, he actively contributes to the strategic direction of the OECD's development agenda, notably in the context of supporting countries in the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals by 2030, in cooperation with the United Nations. In addition to focusing on OECD's regional initiatives in South East Asia, the MENA region, Latin America and Africa, he oversees the Organisation's global relations portfolio.

Heidi Hautala

Heidi Hautala is a Member of the European Parliament and former Minister for International Development and State Ownership Steering of Finland (2011-2013). Currently she is the Vice-President of her group (Greens/EFA) and Co-President of the Euronest Parliamentary Assembly (Eastern Partnership). She is a member of the Development and Legal Affairs Committees and former chair of the Subcommittee on Human Rights. In addition, to the ongoing parliamentary term, she was also an MEP during the years 1995-2003 and 2009-2011. She was previously also a Member of the Finnish Parliament (1991-1995) and a presidential candidate for the Finnish Green Party in 2000 and 2006.

Oh Joon

Oh Joon is the Ambassador and Permanent Representative of Republic of Korea to the United Nations in New York. He assumed this position in September 2013. Currently, he is serving as President of the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) for a one year term, until July 2016. He also serves as President of the Conference of States Parties to the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) for 2015-16. He was formerly Ambassador of the Republic of Korea in Singapore from 2010-13 and Deputy Minister for Multilateral and Global Affairs in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade in Seoul from 2008-10. He received a Master's degree in International Policy Studies from Stanford University (1991-92). Born in Seoul on 4 October 1955, he is married with two children.

Homi Kharas

Homi Kharas is a senior fellow and deputy director for the Global Economy and Development program. Formerly a chief economist in the East Asia and Pacific Region of the World Bank, Kharas currently studies policies and trends influencing developing countries, including aid to poor countries, the emergence of a middle class, the food crisis and global governance and the G20. His most recent co-authored/edited books are The Last Mile in Ending Extreme Poverty (Brookings Press, 2015), Getting to Scale (Brookings Press, 2013), After the Spring: Economic Transitions in the Arab World (Oxford University Press, 2012), and Catalyzing Development: A New Vision for Aid (Brookings Press, 2011)

Justin Yifu Lin

Justin Yifu Lin is Director, Center for New Structural Economics; Dean, Institute of South-South Cooperation and Development; and honorary dean, National School of Development at Peking University. He was the Senior Vice President and Chief Economist of the World Bank, 2008-2012. Prior to this, Mr. Lin served for 15 years as Founding Director of the China Centre for Economic Research at Peking University. He is the author of 23 books including Against the Consensus: Reflections on the Great Recession, the Quest for Prosperity: How Developing Economies Can Take Off, Demystifying the Chinese Economy, and New Structural Economics: A Framework for Rethinking Development and Policy. He is a Corresponding Fellow of the British Academy and a Fellow of the Academy of Sciences for Developing World.

Kuntoro Mangkusubroto

Prof. Dr. Kuntoro Mangkusubroto is a decision science professor and the founder of the School of Business and Management of the Bandung Institute of Technology (ITB). Kuntoro was the Head of the Aceh-Nias Rehabilitation and Reconstruction Agency (BRR) 2005-2009 where he led the post-tsunami reconstruction efforts with funds amounting to USD 8 billion, 70% of which came from foreign assistance. In 2014, Kuntoro was recognized as one of the Asia Game Changers awardees by the Asia Society for “providing a brilliant blueprint for responding to disaster”.

Subsequently, as a Senior Minister, he served as the Head of the Indonesian President’s Delivery Unit for Development Monitoring and Oversight (UKP4) in 2009-2014, with responsibility for overseeing the progress of the countries’ National Priorities, resolving bottlenecks in implementation and managing the President’s Situation Room. He was also assigned by the President to chair the Taskforce against Judicial Mafia and Taskforce for Reduction of Emissions from Deforestation and forest Degradation (REDD+), as well as to lead Indonesia’s participation in the Open Government Partnership movement in its inception. In 2013, the National Democratic Institute (NDI) honored him as a Civic Innovator for the latter.

Kuntoro also played a significant role in the Indonesian energy and natural resources sector, where he was CEO of multiple state owned enterprises in the power and mining sectors and later the Minister for Mining and Energy (1998-1999). In 1999, Kuntoro received Bintang Mahaputera Adhipradhana, Indonesia’s highest honor bestowed upon civilian for significant contribution to the country.

Kuntoro gained his doctorate in Decision Science from ITB, where he also earned his first engineering degree. He holds two master’s degrees – M.Sc. in Industrial Engineering and M.Sc. in Civil Engineering – from Stanford University. He received an Honorary Doctor of Engineering from Northeastern University in 2012. In the same year, he was awarded the Royal Norwegian Order of Merit – Commandor with Star for his works for humanity. Currently he serves as a Distinguished Practitioner of the Blavatnik School of Government, University of Oxford as well as a Council member at the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis (IIASA).

Ibrahim Assane Mayaki

Dr. Ibrahim Assane Mayaki of the Republic of Niger is the Chief Executive Officer of the New Partnership for Africa’s Development (NEPAD) Agency. He was appointed to the position in January 2009.

A former Prime Minister of Niger, from 1997 to 2000, Dr. Mayaki has a Master’ degree from the National School of Public Administration (Enap), Quebec, Canada and a PhD in Administrative Sciences from the University of Paris I, France. He worked as a Professor of Public Administration in Niger and Venezuela. From 1996 to 1997 he was appointed Minister in charge of African Integration and Cooperation and Minister of Foreign Affairs of Niger. In August 2000, he set up the Analysis Centre for Public Policy in Senegal. From 2000 to 2004, Dr. Mayaki was a guest Professor at the University of Paris XI, where he lectured on international relations. He also led research at the Research Centre on Europe and the Contemporary World within that university. In 2004, he served as Executive Director of the Platform in support of Rural Development in West and Central Africa, the Rural Hub, based in Dakar, Senegal.

Steven Radelet

Steven Radelet holds the Donald F. McHenry Chair in Global Human Development and is Director of the Global Human Development Program at Georgetown University's Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service.

Professor Radelet joined the Georgetown faculty in 2012 after serving as Chief Economist of USAID and Senior Adviser for Development for Secretary of State Hillary Clinton. He previously served as Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Treasury (1999-2002). From 2002-09 he was Senior Fellow at the Center for Global Development. He spent twelve years at Harvard University with the Harvard Institute for International Development (HIID), the Kennedy School of Government, and the Department of Economics.

He currently serves as economic adviser to President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf of Liberia, a role he has played since 2005. He acted in a similar role to President Joyce Banda of Malawi from 2012-14. From 1991-95 he lived in Jakarta, Indonesia, where he was HIID's resident economic advisor to the Ministry of Finance of the Government of Indonesia. He served in a similar capacity with the Ministry of Finance and Trade in The Gambia from 1986-88. He and his wife served as Peace Corps Volunteers in Western Samoa.

Dr. Radelet is the author or coauthor of several books and dozens of academic articles, including The Great Surge: The Ascent of the Developing World (Simon & Schuster, 2015), Emerging Africa: How 17 Countries are Leading the Way (Center for Global Development, 2010) and the textbook Economics of Development (W.W. Norton, 7th Edition, 2013). He holds Ph.D. and master's degrees in public policy from Harvard University and a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Central Michigan University

Shyam Saran

Shyam Saran, 69, is a former Foreign Secretary of India and has served as the Prime Minister's Special Envoy for Nuclear Affairs and Climate Change. He is former Chairman of the National Security Advisory Board and currently Chairman, Research and Information System for Developing Countries. He is a Senior Fellow at the Centre for Policy Research. Saran was awarded the Padma Bhushan, the third highest national award, in January 2011 for his contributions to Civil Service. He writes and speaks regularly on foreign policy, climate change, energy security and national and international security related issues.

Akihiko Tanaka

Akihiko Tanaka is Professor of International Politics at the Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia, The University Tokyo. He served as President of Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) from April, 2012 to September, 2015. Mr. Tanaka was Executive Vice President of The University of Tokyo (2009-2011) and a Japanese member of the Asia-Europe Vision Group (1998-1999), the East Asia Vision Group I (1999-2001), and the East Asia Vision Group II (2011-2012). He obtained his bachelor's degree in International Relations at the University of Tokyo and Ph.D. in Political Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has numerous books and articles on world politics and security issues in Japanese and English including The New Middle Ages: The World System in the 21st Century (Tokyo: The International House of Japan, 2002). He received the Medal with Purple Ribbon in 2012 for his academic achievements.

Peter Varghese

Mr Varghese took up his position as Secretary of Australia's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade on 3 December 2012. During this time he has overseen the amalgamation of AusAID with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade and is the most senior official in the Australian Government responsible for development assistance issues. Prior to this appointment, Mr Varghese was Australia's High Commissioner to India (2009-2012), Director-General of the Office of National Assessments (2004-2009), Senior Adviser (International) to the Prime Minister (2002-2004) and Australia's High Commissioner to Malaysia (2000-2002). He has also served overseas in Tokyo (1994), Washington (1986-88) and Vienna (1980-83). In addition, Mr Varghese has held a wide range of senior positions in the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade in Canberra, including drafting Australia's first White Paper on Foreign Affairs and Trade in 1997. He will step down as Secretary of the Department on 1 July 2016, and take up the position of Chancellor of the University of Queensland.