What is TOSSD?

TOSSD is a new international statistical measure that provides a complete picture of all official resources and their support to international public goods and global challenges. TOSSD is a statistical framework to collect coherent, comparable and transparent data on the total official support to promote sustainable development and the SDGs.

How was TOSSD developed?

An international Task Force has been developing the TOSSD methodology since July 2017. Today, the Task Force comprises more than 25 experts from 29 countries and 14 multilateral institutions. All Task Force documents and deliberations are available at www.tossd.org.

How can you provide TOSSD data?

Data providers include provider countries (traditional and emerging), recipient countries and multilateral institutions. Submission deadlines are 31 May 2020 (for multilateral institutions) and 31 July 2020 (for provider countries). Data for Pillar II activities can be submitted until 1 October 2020.
