Advancing financial literacy globally: implementation and innovation

DRAFT AGENDA

4-5 October 2018
Moscow, Russian Federation

Day 1

09:00 – 10:00	Registration and welcome coffee
10:00 – 10:10	Welcome and opening remarks
10:10 – 11:40	Session 1: Global progress on financial literacy  This session will look at the progress made to develop robust and effective policies for financial education and financial literacy since the G8 meeting in 2006, taking into account evidence globally including survey data of adults and students, and the continuing growth in the number of countries with a National Strategy for Financial Education.
11:40 – 12:10	Coffee break
12:10 – 13:00	Session 2: Levels of financial literacy at a regional and global level  The OECD has developed tools and methods to measure the financial literacy of adults and youth. These instruments have been used in many countries, and the data has been collected in regional and global reports. In addition to comparing levels of financial literacy across countries, such data also provide important insights into the variations across target groups such as women or older generations. This session will look at the conclusions of such data collection in terms of financial literacy and financial education, and include the results of a new exercise funded by the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation.
13:00-13:30	Keynote
13:30 – 14:30	Lunch
14:30 – 16:30	Session 3: Digitalisation of financial services and its implications for financial literacy, including for younger generations  Digital finance is changing the way that people access financial products and services and interact with providers. This session will look at how this is being incorporated in financial education policy, and whether there are specific challenges for children and young people.
16:30 – 17:30	Session 4: Financial education for migrants  This session will look at the financial literacy needs of various types of migrants. In particular it will focus on economic migrants and their families, and forcibly displaced people.
17:30 – 17:45	Closing of day 1
19:00	Cocktail dinner hosted by the Ministry of Finance

Day 2

09:30 – 10:00	Registration and welcome coffee
10:00 – 10:10	Welcome and day 1 highlights
10:10 – 11:30	Session 5: Innovative approaches to financial education delivery  Financial education providers use a wide range of delivery channels to ensure that they reach all target groups. This session will focus particularly on recent, innovative information campaigns and edutainment.
11:30 – 12:00	Coffee break
12:00 – 13:20	Session 6: Financial education and consumer protection to improve credit decisions and outcomes  This session will cover both financial education and financial consumer protection related to credit. Taking into account the perspective and responsibility of policy makers, the private sector (including microfinance) and not-for-profits, it will explore how credit is marketed, distributed and managed.
13:20 – 13:30	Highlights and closing remarks
13:30 – 14:30	Lunch

The symposium will be followed by a workshop on national strategies for financial education in the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS). Participants in the OECD/INFE Technical Assistance Project on Financial Education in the CIS, as well as delegates from the CIS region, will be invited to attend. A draft agenda will be circulated in due course.
