

OECD PENSIONS OUTLOOK 2016

Pension systems are still adjusting to the challenges they face

Cass Business School, London

Thursday, 8 December 2016

The OECD is pleased to invite you to the launch of the latest edition of its biennial “Pensions Outlook” report and a complementary paper on life annuity products and their guarantees.

The report explores the challenges that pension systems are currently facing in light of population ageing and the difficult economic environment, characterised by low returns, low growth and low interest rates.

Covering both public and private pension systems, the 2016 edition of the Pensions Outlook analyses the latest developments in pension policies in OECD countries and assesses trends in retirement income systems.

Key speakers and topics include:

Pablo Antolin, Principal economist and Head of the Pension Unit at the OECD Financial Affairs Division

- Main issues and policy messages of the OECD Pensions Outlook 2016

Stephanie Payet, Private pension analyst, OECD Financial Affairs Division

- Does the tax treatment of retirement savings in different OECD countries provide an advantage when people save for retirement?

Jessica Mosher, Private pension analyst, OECD Financial Affairs Division

- Policy measures to improve the quality of financial advice for retirement
- Policy considerations for life annuity products

Chiara Monticone, Policy analyst, OECD Financial Affairs Division

- The role of financial education in supporting decision making for retirement

Andrew Reilly, Pension analyst, OECD Social Policy Division

- Civil service pensions: toward a unified system with the private sector
