

Lorena MASIAS QUIROGA

Deputy Superintendent for Private Pension Funds

Superintendence of Banks Insurance and AFPs

Lima - Perú

Doctor in Economics, Master of Arts, Bachelor in Economics; studies in la Universidad del Pacífico (Lima) and University of Pittsburgh (USA).

Currently, Ms. Lorena Masias is Deputy Superintendent for Private Pension Funds at the Superintendence of Banks, Insurance and AFPs.

Formerly, she was Deputy Superintendent for Insurance and Chief Economist also at the Superintendence.

Since February 2007, she is also a member of the Consumer Protection Agency (INDECOPI).

Until 1998, Ms. Lorena Masias held an economist position at the International Monetary Fund and until 1982 at the Central Bank of Peru.

Teaching Fellow and Teaching Assistant in the Economics Department at University of Pittsburgh and has taught courses on Pension regulation in several Universities in Peru.

Publications in several topics including supervisory issues, monetary policy and private pension systems.