

Dr Johannes Potgieter is Chief Director: Innovation and Technology at the Department of Trade and Industry. The aim of this unit in the dti is to enhance industrial development and global competitiveness of South African industries through technology support measures. Dr Potgieter's responsibilities include the development of policy and strategy for support measures by Government to promote technology in industry through innovation, technology transfer and human resource development. Dr Potgieter represents the dti on the National Advisory Council on Innovation (NACI). He holds a Ph.D from RAU, an MBL from Unisa and a Teacher's Diploma from the Natal Technikon.