

Sue Lewis, Head of Savings and Investments, HM Treasury, United Kingdom

Sue is Head of Savings and Investments in the UK Treasury. Her responsibilities include policy on savings and investment markets, mutual financial institutions, corporate governance and financial capability.

Sue has previously held a number of senior civil service roles in the Treasury, Department for Children, Schools and Families and the Cabinet Office. She has worked in a wide variety of policy areas including early years, children and young people, and equality issues. Sue also led the Cruickshank Banking Review team, an independent review into competition in banking markets.