

Fiona Chan

Deputy Director, Member of Education Department, Central Provident Fund Board, Singapore

Fiona Chan is a Deputy Director at the Central Provident Fund (CPF) Board, Singapore. She heads the Member Education Department that was specially set up to strategise and execute financial education programmes for CPF members.

Fiona sits on the Financial Education Steering Committee that oversees MoneySENSE, the national financial education programme for Singapore, jointly managed by seven public service agencies.

Fiona hails from a financial background with several years' experience working for banks. She is a Certified Financial Planner and holds a Journalism degree from the University of Oregon, USA.