Since the beginning of the EIP, the Entrepreneurship Indicators Steering Group has played a crucial role in harmonising definitions, collecting data and producing indicators. It continues to contribute significantly to the development of the EIP by charting the strategic orientations of the programme, reviewing past and current research, and suggesting future areas of work. With the increasing coverage of the EIP in terms of countries, regions and indicators, the composition of the Steering Group has changed. During the past year, the EIP has benefited significantly from their contributions.
