

PISA 2009 Results: What Students Know and Can Do: Student Performance in Reading, Mathematics and Science (Volume I)

DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.1787/9789264091450-en>

ISBN 978-92-64-09144-3 (print)

ISBN 978-92-64-09145-0 (PDF)

© OECD 2010

Corrigenda

In each volume’s figure entitled “A map of PISA countries and economies”, Moldova should be included in the list of “Partner countries and economies in PISA 2009”, Mauritius should have an asterisk after it, and the Dominican Republic should be removed from the list of “Partner countries in previous surveys”.

Page 13

In paragraph 2, “OECD mean score of 494” should be replaced with “OECD mean score of 493”.

Page 15

Table I.A

The title should read:

Comparing countries and economies’ performance

Page 188

Table A5.3

The final row showing the total distribution of science items by situation or context should be deleted and replaced with the previous row. The final section the table should be presented as follows:

Distribution of science items by situation or context
	Number of items	Number of multiple-choice items	Number of complex multiple-choice items	Number of closed-constructed response items	Number of open-constructed response items	Number of short response items
Personal	12	5	4	1	2	0
Social	30	10	8	0	12	0
Global	11	3	5	0	3	0
Total	53	18	17	1	17	0