

Rachel Radford - CV

Rachel Radford is an Assistant Director in the UK Inland Revenue's International Division. She has responsibility for policy work on the international direct tax issues arising from electronic commerce and co-ordinates work on the taxation issues arising from e-commerce across the Department.

She was the co-chair of the OECD's Electronic Commerce Tax Administration Group which worked on the tax administration issues and the tax framework for electronic commerce for the Ottawa conference last year. Currently she is chair of the electronic commerce sub-group of the OECD's Forum on Strategic Management which is taking forward the tax administration work.

Before joining International Division, she was a District Inspector in charge of a local tax office and then worked in a Regional Office advising on and co-ordinating compliance work in local tax offices.