

Verena Fritz is a consultant with the World Bank's Poverty Reduction and Economic Management Network in Washington DC working on governance and shared growth. She is affiliated with the Overseas Development Institute in London (Research Fellow on leave of absence), and holds a PhD in Political Science from the European University Institute. She has worked on a range of issues related to governance, state-building, and democratization. Her recent publications include: Measuring Governance: What Guidance for Aid Policy?(Court, Fritz and Gyimah-Boadi, 2007), Good enough? The evolving governance and anti-corruption agenda (Fritz, 2007), and Developmental States in the New Millennium: Concepts and Challenges for a New Aid Agenda (Fritz and Rocha Menocal 2007).