WELCOME TO STAVANGER!

Stavanger has been a port of possibilities for nearly a thousand years. From the Viking battle of Hafsrfsjord that gathered Norway under one ruler, through a city at sail, a blooming canning industry to an energetic international city. Built around a Cathedral at the farther end of a deep natural harbour lays our small and friendly town yet at the same time a city that offers all the qualities of a big city. Stavanger has always been oriented outwards, wanting to meet new people and new ideas. This had made the city innovative and the main oil and gas cluster in Europe. Stavanger is therefore a rich city – rich in culture, experiences and good times. Our city is also surrounded by some of Norway's most varied and spectacular natural cathedrals. Open sea and sweeping vistas, narrow fjords and steep mountains, the Pulpit rock and the magnificent Kjerag, some of the most fabulous beaches in Europe, deep clear fjords scattered with picturesque isles. Altogether making Stavanger a good place to be, rest, learn and enjoy life.
