

Country case: Tappan Zee Bridge video-camera monitoring in the United States

Description

Public involvement is an integral part of the transportation planning process. Accordingly, the goal of the public and agency involvement programme for the Tappan Zee Hudson River Crossing Project is to ensure open, collaborative, and meaningful public and agency participation throughout the process. The project has its own website where the public can keep up to date on the project, where all non-confidential information is made available to the public and where advancement of work can be observed live through construction cameras.

Public Procurement
Principle: Transparency,
Participation

Procurement Stage:
Post-award

Audience: Policy Maker,
Procuring Entity, Private Sector, Civil Society

Source: OECD (2015), Effective Delivery of Large Infrastructure Projects: The Case of the New International Airport of Mexico City, OECD Publishing, Paris.