Formalities for entry into France

If needed, participants are advised to contact the consular authorities of France early, in order to allow sufficient time for the processing of visa applications. Information on visa procedures, including a list of relevant French embassies and consulates, is available on the Internet site of the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Arrival Details

There are two airports in the Paris area. North of Paris is Paris Charles de Gaulle (Paris CDG) airport, the largest airport and most often used for international flights. South of Paris is Paris-Orly airport. For more information concerning the airports, including public transport access, please consult the Aéroports de Paris website.

RATP has 3 dedicated bus lines for travel to and from the major airports around Paris: Orly et Roissy Charles de Gaulle. See their website for more information about these bus lines, as well as alternative itineraries by public transport for travelling to and from the airport.

Air France coaches are at your service with 5 regular bus lines taking you to and from the airports. Please see their website for more information.

Paris can be reached by 2 high-speed international trains:

- Thalys - for travellers from Belgium, Germany and the Netherlands
- Eurostar - for travellers from the United Kingdom
