

Séin Ó MUINEACHÁIN is the Economic Graph Analytics Team Lead for Europe, Middle East and Africa and is responsible for analysing and interpreting LinkedIn data to understand the labour market in various regions and countries. He has led analyses at both member state and EU level, including analysis of the labour market in a number of European cities and intra-EU migration. Most recently, he provided the analysis underpinning the monthly UK Workforce report which monitors hiring and migration trends in the UK and its regions. He has worked in the area of skills and labour market policy for over 6 years, and before joining LinkedIn was a labour market policy consultant.