

Josephine HAGE is a Social Scientist with a background in public policy. As a researcher, she contributed to several local and regional creative industries reports in Germany. On the project level, her focus has been on cross innovation. Since 2017, she is Deputy Director of Creative Saxony, the first member based CCI support center in Germany.