1. Monitor and analyse:

   -- developments in shipbuilding outside the OECD area, in particular, in countries that may be candidates for accession to the OECD Shipbuilding Agreement, and follow closely and analyse all available information on the involvement of OECD shipbuilding companies in those activities;
-- shipbuilding policies in Member and non-Member countries including developments concerning demand and supply prospects, shipbuilding capacities and environmental regulations affecting shipbuilding;

-- the interrelation between shipbuilding and shipping policies.

2. Assist the Parties Group, composed of a representative of each of the Parties to the Agreement, in carrying out functions provided for in the Agreement.

3. Follow closely consultations between Parties to the Agreement and assist Panels established under the Agreement in their proceedings on disputable assistance measures and injurious pricing.

4. Prepare studies and reports on shipbuilding and shiprepair as requested by the Parties Group of the Agreement.

5. Contribute to the organisation of meetings of national delegates and experts on these subjects.

Principal Qualifications

1. Advanced university degree, preferably in economics, law or equivalent.

2. Several years’ professional experience in:

-- international law, knowledge of international and national anti-dumping, subsidy and counter-vailing duty legislation or regulations and competition policies would certainly be an advantage, or -- work related to shipbuilding within a national or international setting, in particular, in relation to the structural adjustment process taking place in the world shipbuilding industry and its impact on OECD countries’ shipbuilding and shipping policies.

3. Ability to work under pressure and to assess priorities. Sense of order, method, initiative and responsibility. Good interpersonal skills, ability to co-ordinate activities and capacity to work effectively as part of a team.

4. Excellent knowledge of and demonstrated drafting ability in one of the two official languages of the Organisation (English and French); good working knowledge of the other.

N.B. The post may be filled at the level immediately below if the qualifications and professional experience of the selected applicant correspond to that level; in this case, the duties and responsibilities assigned to the post will be adjusted accordingly.
