SUMMARY RECORD OF THE 86TH SESSION OF THE COMMITTEE FOR FISHERIES

held 9-11 October 2000, Château de la Muette, Paris 16

1. Adoption of the Draft Agenda for the 86th Session [AGR/FI/A(00)2]

The draft Agenda was adopted subject to a change in the order of the items.

2. Reports by the Secretariat

   (a) Oral report by Mr. Viatte, Director of the Directorate for Food, Agriculture and Fisheries

   Mr. Viatte informed the Committee about major developments in the Organisation. Mr. Viatte reviewed the publications programme of the Committee for Fisheries underlining the importance of the newly published study “Transition to Responsible Fisheries”. In particular he highlighted the importance of fisheries being discussed at the 26-27 June 2000 Meeting of the OECD Council at Ministerial Level. Furthermore, Mr. Viatte informed the Committee about the discussions on the Organisation’s budget for year 2001 that was only just beginning. He underlined that the proposal for the Organisation’s year 2001 Programme of Work and Budget (PWB) did not contain suggestions for changes to the Fisheries Programme, nor any changes in the level of resources (compared to the 2000 level) to carry out this work. Insofar as the PWB discussion had been launched it was now up to national delegations during the forthcoming discussions to make their views heard.

   Mr. Viatte then informed the Committee that Mr. Paul Wallis will leave the Organisation at the end of October 2000 and be replaced by Mr. Anthony Cox, currently with the Australian Bureau of Agriculture and Resource Economics' fisheries division.

   Mr. Viatte reiterated the possibility for Member countries to make “voluntary contributions” to specific elements of the Programme of Work and underlined that he would welcome such contributions in particular to the Fisheries Programme which was, in many observers opinion, short of resources. In this regard he thanked the Norwegian authorities for having seconded Ms. Trine Trollvik for a period of six weeks in the summer of 2000. She had in particular contributed to the development of a tariff information database for the Committee's work on market liberalisation. In addition, Mr. Viatte thanked the Korean Delegation for the secondment of Mr. Kang. Mr. Viatte also thanked the Canadian Delegation for providing a voluntary contribution for the Committee’s work on sustainable development.

   Mr. Viatte underlined the importance of the on-going consultations with other international organisations, in particular the FAO and the WTO. In particular he mentioned the informal fisheries consultation between OECD and FAO Secretariats, the first of its kind, which occurred in Rome on 12 September 2000.

The Secretariat introduced document [AGR/FI/RD(2000)7] which provided brief descriptions of activities within the organisations that are relevant to the work of the Committee.

In introducing document [AGR/FI/RD(2000)8], a representative from the Environment Directorate briefed the Committee on the work being carried out on the Environmental Outlook report and the contribution of document "Fisheries Trends - a background report" to that work. This document, written by a consultant to the Environment Directorate, is to be published under the consultant’s name as background material. This background paper was intended to provide input to the fisheries chapter of the Environment Directorate’s Outlook Report. Several Delegates had major critical comments and proposals for improvements to the Background Report. Delegations were encouraged to send their additional comments to the Environment Directorate (Helen.Mountford@oecd.org). In addition it was agreed that the section dealing with fisheries of the Environment Outlook Report 2020 would be posted on the fisheries web site for comments to be sent to the Environment Directorate. The Fisheries Division should be copied on all comments.

The Committee reiterated its wish, expressed at earlier meetings as well, of being kept informed and up-to date on relevant activities in other parts of the Organisation. Furthermore the Committee requested that the Secretariat stressed, vis-à-vis other substantive directorates of the Organisation, and in particular the Environment and the Trade Directorates as well as the Economics Department, the need to be kept informed of ongoing activities that included references to fisheries in Member countries, in a timely manner so as to be able to contribute to the work. Likewise the Committee felt it important that other relevant Committees of the Organisation be kept up to date with its own work. In the ensuing discussion the Committee underlined the importance of ensuring better coherence between the work of different directorates of the OECD.

3. Report on the Organisation’s horizontal project on sustainable development: managing natural resources (Chapter 10 of the Analytic Report)

The Secretariat informed the Committee about the state of affairs on this project. The Committee was introduced to document [SG/SD(2000)1] which will be a chapter in the Analytic Report. The Committee discussed this document and agreed to submit additional comments, in writing, to the Secretariat before the end of October 2000. The Committee discussed the broader aspects of sustainable development and, in particular, how fisheries could contribute to a better understanding of the three pillars (economic, environmental and social) that make up the sustainable development paradigm. In this regard the Committee underlined the importance of ensuring a balance between the three pillars of sustainable development.

The Committee was informed that an ad hoc group was preparing a second document as part of the sustainable development project - a Policy Report. This report is being prepared for the OECD Ministerial Council and the Environment Ministerial meeting in May 2001. The ad hoc group will meet on 19-20 February 2001 and 19-20 March 2001. Delegates were encouraged to make comments to the report through their respective Delegations and members of the ad hoc group.
The Committee instructed the Secretariat to provide further transparency on how to make comments on the chapters in the Analytic and Policy reports.

4. Review of Fisheries Policies in OECD countries

PART 1: The Secretariat introduced document [AGR/FI(2000)13/PART1]. The paper outlined major policy developments affecting commercial fisheries in 1998 and 1999, and identified emerging issues that confront the fishing industry. A number of changes were made to the text of the Survey of Policy Developments. Delegates undertook to provide data to the Secretariat on financial transfers (for Table 5) and statistics (in accordance with the requirements of the 1998-99 Statistical Review) before the end of October 2000.

PART 2: The Chair recalled the agreement of the 83rd Session that the 1998-1999 Review would contain a special topic on fishing capacity. Whilst introducing document [AGR/FI(2000)13/PART2], the Secretariat underlined that only few countries had submitted information for the special survey on fishing capacity. The Committee discussed the special topic on fishing capacity and agreed to delete the sections on conclusions and recommendations and further agreed that further work on the remaining parts was required before the document could be approved. Delegations will have the opportunity to submit comments to sections 3-7. The Secretariat will review the document to ensure that its content is consistent with the FAO’s International Plan of Action for the management of fishing capacity. A revised version of the document will then be presented to the 87th Session.

PARTS 3 to 28: Some Delegations introduced their respective country chapters highlighting major development affecting their fisheries sector. Some delegates highlighted the particular issues that their country fisheries sector was confronted with.

Subject to a number of amendments to the above documents the Committee ADOPTED the Review of Fisheries Policies in OECD countries, excluding the special topic on fishing capacity, and agreed to its declassification and publication.

It was recalled that the Committee decided at its 82nd Session to publish fisheries statistics for the Review of Fisheries every year. In introducing the Draft Guidelines for the Review of Fisheries Statistics 2000 [AGR/FI(2000)14] the Secretariat underlined that they reflected the outcome of the joint OECD/EUROSTAT/FAO meeting which took place in Luxembourg on 7-8 March 2000.

The Secretariat noted the modality for collecting and disseminating fisheries statistics and in particular the use of the dedicated web site. The experience with the previous Statistical Review had shown that this procedure was efficient.

The Committee APPROVED the Guidelines, deciding to include the collection of data on government financial transfers and on recreational fisheries. As for the data on recreational fisheries these data should be supplied on the basis of “best efforts”, it being recognized that some countries only collect this type of information on an ad hoc basis, or not at all. Member countries were reminded that the deadline for submitting material to the exercise was 30 June 2001.
6. Progress Report on the Study on Fisheries Management Costs

The Secretariat reminded the Committee that, as agreed at the 85th Session, there are two types of contributions that delegations should make: country notes (compulsory) and case studies (voluntary).

The two outstanding issues raised in document [AGR/FI(2000)12/REV1] i.e. the treatment of fisheries services costs that are incurred by stakeholders, and the difficulty in estimating some research and enforcement costs were discussed by the Committee. The Committee agreed that those countries that can provide quantitative information on stakeholder expenditures should do so. Those countries that do not have quantitative information on these costs should at least provide a qualitative discussion on, and an estimate of, stakeholder expenditures. With regard to the difficulty in estimating research and enforcement costs within organisations not solely occupied with fisheries matters, countries able to specifically identify those costs should report them. Countries that are not able to provide this information should at least provide a qualitative discussion on, and an estimate of, these types of fisheries research and enforcement costs. Subsequently, the Committee APPROVED document AGR/FI(2000)12/REV1. Delegates were reminded that countries are expected to contribute country notes based by 31st December 2000.

Canada presented their case study [AGR/FI/RD(2000)10]. Spain indicated that it would provide a case study. Other countries were encouraged to contribute case studies and to advise the Secretariat of their intention to do so as soon as possible. These contributions can be presented to the 87th and 88th Sessions of the Committee.

The Secretariat will present to the 87th Session a first draft of an overview paper. At the same meeting, and in accordance with the study outline, the Secretariat will also present a draft outline for the synthesis report.

7. Progress Report on the Study on Market Liberalisation

Insofar the paper [AGR/FI(2000)15] is concerned, the Committee suggested a number of improvements so as to enlarge the number of species and products covered to get a better classification. This would be incorporated into a revised version for the 87th Session, but subject to further information received in time from Delegates. The Committee agreed that the paper will be updated from time to time and would be reverted to in due course.

In introducing AGR/FI(2000)16 (the "Inventory") the Chair reminded the Committee that a number of delegates had still not submitted information for the inventory. In this regard the Committee acknowledged that the successful implementation of this Study is dependent on Member countries’ contributions in the form of specific country information (see circular letter of 20 April 2000) and by checking the information that is collated by the Secretariat. The countries that have not yet submitted information agreed to do so in support of the goals of the Committee.

Based on the country submissions [AGR/FI(2000)16] and other relevant material the Secretariat provided an overview of the early identified findings and issues arising from the Inventory. Furthermore, the Committee was introduced a possible analytical classification of measures.

In conclusion, the Committee agreed to provide further data and information for the inventory of tariff and non-tariff barriers, assistance measures and restriction on investment and services, as well as other factors. It was also agreed that Member countries would make their “best efforts” to submit as detailed as possible information on revenues derived from tariffs on fish and fish products. Several delegates expressed their concern that this information may be difficult to get hold of. For consideration at the 87th Session, the Secretariat was requested to (i) submit proposals on an analytical classification, (iii) provide a first draft of preliminary assessment based on the Inventory (and other relevant material), and (iii) prepare a conceptual paper. The Secretariat was also asked to provide preliminary ideas on the implementation of the agreed further stages of the study. Member countries were asked to submit issue papers and two countries (Japan and Spain) indicated they would do so.

8. Progress Report on the Study on Economic and Social Fisheries Sustainability Indicators

The Committee was presented with document [AGR/FI(2000)18] outlining various activities on indicators for fisheries. Delegates were reminded to contribute voluntary country briefs before 1st December 2000 [see AGR/FI(2000)5/REV1, paragraph 25]. Japan, Spain and the United States of America indicated their willingness to provide country briefs for this study.

9. Reports from Observers

The observer from the FAO briefed the Committee on fisheries activities in his organisation. The Argentinean observer briefed the Committee on developments relevant to his country’s fisheries sector.

10. Other business

The Secretariat was asked to look into the possibility of having the 87th Session of the Committee back to back with the FAO Committee for Fisheries meeting (26th February – 2nd March 2001).

The dates of the 87th and 88th Sessions have been set for 5-7 March 2001 and 15-17 October 2001 respectively.

The Committee expressed its sincere thanks to M. Paul Wallis for his contribution to the Committee’s work during his three years with the OECD Secretariat. The Committee wished him all the best for his future career.

11. Adoption of the Minutes

The Committee for Fisheries adopted these minutes on 11th October 2000.

SUGGESTIONS FOR IMPROVING MEETING EFFICIENCY

- “The French language versions of documents should be circulated earlier.”
- “Ease the agenda. Too crowded”
- “Coordinate better with other OECD activities, including information sharing and ensure consistency”
- “Simultaneous translation of documents to be improved”
