INTRODUCTION

Summary of CCNM Programmes

Events take place in the context of the CCNM's multi-country thematic, regional and country programmes. The multi-country thematic programmes are linked to the core generic work areas of the Organisation (such as trade and investment, taxation, labour market and social policies and the environment); whereas the regional and country programmes focus on the specific policy needs of selected non-Member economies.

Multi-country thematic activities are carried out principally through the Emerging Market Economy Forum (EMEF) and the Transition Economy Programme (TEP). The EMEF addresses issues of mutual interest and is targeted at relevant non-members, including transition economies. Certain EMEF events are designed, more particularly, for the Dynamic Non-Member Economies (DNMEs)<sup>1</sup> with which the OECD has pursued a programme of policy dialogue for a number of years. The TEP focuses essentially on the transition economies of Central and Eastern Europe and the New Independent States (NIS) of the former Soviet Union, and occasionally on specific groups of countries (e.g. Balkan countries, Transcaucasian and Central Asian NIS) as well as Mongolia and Vietnam.

The CCNM also co-ordinates and manages a Special Programme of Policy Dialogue on Issues arising from Financial Instability in Non-Member Economies. This programme provides a forum for policy dialogue on fundamental structural conditions required for the resumption of sustainable growth in the countries most affected by the ongoing financial crisis.

Country and regional programmes are based on policy dialogue and assist countries in transition and emerging market economies, through specific policy recommendations. These programmes include the following: the Slovak Republic, Russia, China, Bulgaria, Romania, Slovenia, the Baltic region (largely funded through voluntary contributions), and Brazil.

<sup>1</sup> The DNMEs are Argentina; Brazil; Chile; Hong Kong, China; Malaysia; the Philippines; Singapore; Chinese Taipei; and Thailand. In addition, China, India and the private and academic sectors of Indonesia are invited to participate in EMEF activities targeted at DNMEs. Russia is also invited to participate in these activities.

In summary, the eleven programmes including the three multi-country thematic programmes and eight country and regional programmes are as follows:

1. Emerging Market Economy Forum (EMEF)
2. Transition Economy Programme (TEP)
3. Special Programme of Policy Dialogue on Issues Arising from Financial Instability in Non-Member Economies
4. Slovak Republic
5. Russia
6. China
7. Bulgaria
8. Romania
9. Slovenia
10. Baltic Regional Programme
11. Brazil

Principle Themes that Drive the CCNM Programmes

Each of the eleven CCNM Programmes is organised around nine key themes as follows:

1. Interaction of sound macroeconomic management and structural reforms economy-wide.
2. Integrating non-member economies into the multilateral trading system.
3. Integrating non-member economies into global capital markets.
4. Strengthening the public sector's capacities for economic management.
5. Implementing sustainable development.
6. Strengthening human resource development and utilisation.
7. Promoting social stability and equity.
8. Operationalising the Development Partnerships Strategy.
9. Supporting structural adjustment through sectoral and territorial policies, as well as innovation and technological development.

CCNM Timetable of Events

The Timetable of Events provides a comprehensive listing of CCNM events. Participation in these events is by invitation only.
