

Daniela Luisi
Expert in Inner Areas

Italy

Social researcher and PhD in Public Policy Analysis. Her interests are focused on methods of analysis and evaluation of public policies, participatory processes in construction and implementation of territorial policies. She works in local development projects and she is currently involved in the “National strategy for Inner Areas” (Presidency of the Council of Ministers - Italy) as planner of local development strategies and territorial activities (action-research).