

Wendy Pring

Partner KCP Services

United Kingdom

Wendy is a Chartered Civil Engineer and has spent the majority of her career working across the waste management sector. She set up KCP, with her husband, and has taken it to a team of skilled personnel and a diverse spread of clients across the UK. By delivering innovative solutions she has created an expert niche provider of asset maintenance and decommissioning capabilities.

She is also heavily involved with the promotion of STEM subjects in education, taking an active role in the local schools, colleges and community. She is extremely passionate about empowering our up-and-coming workforce to embrace change and understand how school subjects connect in the real world..
