

Career opportunities at the OECD

If you're a strong writer and clear thinker with an interest in public policy – we'd like to hear from you.

The Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) is an International Organisation based in Paris, France. We analyse public policies and produce policy recommendations and advice for our 37 Member countries, the G20, and more than 100 partners. We generate, collect and analyse data to produce a series of micro- and macro-economic recommendations in nearly every sphere of public policy.

On Tuesday 3 and Wednesday 4 July, Human Resource officials will visit the OECD Tokyo Centre to meet and advise Japanese candidates on the OECD's recruitment process.
