

ANGELA GALES

19 years old

Italy & Luxembourg

Student of Economics and Politics

Back to Youthwise page

ABOUT

I am a first-year undergraduate student in Economics and Politics at Sciences Po Paris. Originally from Italy and Luxembourg, I grew up between Turin and Paris and fluently speak four languages – Italian, German, French, English – and am currently learning Spanish. My particular interests reside in the study of economic and social inequalities and in the economics of food redistribution.

“Childhood malnutrition causes the future income of the adult-to-be, to be lower.”