ABOUT

I'm Lorna, a recent History graduate from the universities of Cambridge, Queen Mary, George Washington and Sichuan. As a product of the grammar school system, I am passionate about improving social mobility. To this end, I have previously worked with the UN, World Bank, Bank of England and the Y7, and now hope to work with the OECD on such issues

“Not all young people have the same tools for success at their disposal. Let's level the playing field.”
