- Generally, data from the EU Community Survey on household use of ICT, which covers EU countries plus Iceland, Norway and Turkey, relate to the first quarter of the reference year. For the Czech Republic, data relate to the fourth quarter of the reference year.
- Individuals aged 16-74 years, except for the Czech Republic (15+), Japan (6+), Korea (7+ until 2001, 6+ afterwards), Mexico (6+) and Switzerland (14-74). Data generally refer to Internet use in the last 12 months.
- Data refer to Internet use in the last month.
- Individuals who use the Internet at least once a month. For 2000 to 2003, data include Internet accessed only via computer. In the 2004 survey, Internet access through mobile phone is also included. From 2005, data are for the proportion of individuals using the Internet via any means, including mobile phone, in the last 12 months.
- Private data from Arbeitsgruppe für Werbemediaforschung (WEMF AG). Data refer to Internet users aged 14-74 who used the Internet at least once within the last six months.
- Aged 6 years or over. The percentages may be relatively high compared to other countries as younger people tend to be greater users of the Internet than older age groups.
- Data for 2000 to 2003 refer to the percentage of all households with at least one member regularly using the Internet from any location. Individual data are available for 2005; data include individuals aged 18-74.
- Aged 18 years or over. For 2001, data for individuals over 64 years of age are estimated. Data for 2004 to 2005 refer to individuals aged 18-64.
- Respondents are asked whether they use the Internet; no time period is specified.
- For 2001 to 2005, data refer to Internet use in the last 6 months.
