Programme updates

Since the launch of the OECD Programme on a Territorial Approach to the SDGs during the UN High-Level Political Forum in July 2018, we have been undertaking field missions in our first five pilot cities and regions to learn and analyse their work on localising the SDGs, together with peers from partner cities and regions.

We have also raised awareness on the role of cities and regions in the 2030 Agenda through important high-level events like the Paris Peace Forum, attended by almost 80 heads of state and world leaders from the UN, World Bank, OECD and many more. We were also present at COP24 in Katowice and other international events.

We launched a joint OECD-EU Committee of the Regions survey on what cities and regions are doing to contribute to the SDGs, and how EU institutions can help.

Two new pilots joined our programme and we look forward to continuing to shape the content of our final report with more pilots in 2019.
