In 2018, the OECD/ACN launched a project to strengthen Uzbekistan’s law enforcement to fight corruption and enhance the implementation of IAP recommendations. OECD guidance and assistance will aim to contribute to the following results:

- Selected draft anti-corruption legislation is developed in line with international standards;
- Capacity of law enforcement to detect, investigate and prosecute corruption is strengthened;
- Awareness of ethics, conflict of interests and other integrity issues is increased;
- Anti-corruption policy development, monitoring and coordination capacities at the GPO are increased;
- Implementation of IAP recommendations is improved;
- Awareness of academia and their support to progressive anti-corruption reforms is enhanced.

Funding for this project is provided by United States Department of State Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs (INL).

“There is corruption, bureaucracy everywhere. We cannot live like this...such a state of affairs cannot be tolerated from now on” Shavkat Mirziyoev, the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan in his Address to the members of the Senate and deputies of the Legislative Chamber of the Oliy Majlis, December 2017.

In recent years, Uzbekistan has accelerated the pace of its anti-corruption reforms following the adoption of its Anti-Corruption Law (2017), the State Anti-corruption Programme and the establishment of the Interagency Anti-Corruption Commission to coordinate and monitor the implementation.
