The OECD Review of Gender Equality in Chile: Towards a Better Sharing of Paid and Unpaid Work is the first of a series addressing gender equality in Latin American and the Caribbean countries. It examines gender gaps in labour and educational outcomes in Chile from an international perspective, identifying the factors that contribute to unequal outcomes and puts forward a comprehensive policy strategy for greater gender equality in Chile. Particular attention is put on the uneven distribution of unpaid care and domestic work, and the extra burden that this places on women and girls. The report investigates how policies and programs in Chile can make this distribution more equitable between women and men and considers how the COVID-19 pandemic has exacerbated pre-existing gaps.
