PROGRAMME

4th OECD/GFLEC global policy research symposium to advance financial literacy

Addressing the needs of youth

24 May 2017, OECD, Paris
About the OECD

The OECD is a forum in which governments compare and exchange policy experiences, identify good practices in light of emerging challenges, and promote decisions and recommendations to produce better policies for better lives. The OECD’s mission is to promote policies that improve the economic and social well-being of people around the world.

About PISA (Programme for International Student Assessment)

The Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) is a triennial international survey which aims to evaluate education systems worldwide by testing the skills and knowledge of 15-year-old students. To date, students representing more than 70 economies have participated in the assessment. www.oecd.org/pisa

About PISA 2015

PISA 2015 is the Programme’s 6th survey. It assessed the competencies of 15-year-olds in reading, mathematics and science in 72 countries and economies. In 15 of those countries and economies, students also took part in an assessment of their financial literacy skills.

About the OECD International Network on Financial Education (INFE)

Created in 2008, the OECD/INFE promotes and facilitates international co-operation between policy makers and other stakeholders on financial education issues worldwide. More than 230 public institutions from over 100 countries have joined the OECD/INFE. www.financial-education.org

About the Global Financial Literacy Excellence Center (GFLEC)

Founded in 2011 at the George Washington University School of Business, the Global Financial Literacy Excellence Center (GFLEC) is one of the world’s leading centers for financial literacy research and policy. More information on GFLEC can be found at gflec.org.
