

Policy coherence for anti-corruption/IFFs (DFID)

A new public messaging

We will not do business with you or your departments if we have reason to suspect corruption or use of UK for illicit assets.

We can, and will, prevent access to UK.

We will encourage other donors to take similar action

We will hold you to the international standards you have signed up to.

We will not shy away from expressing lack of confidence in institutions or individuals where this is warranted.

If your systems uncover corruption, we will support them further, and strengthen them for further success.

If we discover corruption through our systems, there will be penalties – and reputationally damaging publicity.

We will support platforms for expressing citizens concerns if there is not one in place.
