Public Procurement Principle: Integrity

Procurement Stage: All stages

Audience: Procuring entity, Policy makers, Private sector, Civil society, CPBs

Description

In 2012, the Ministry of Interior and Administration, in co-operation with other central offices, prepared the document 'Government Anti-Corruption Program for 2012-2016' ('Government Program'). This programme is a continuation of activities envisaged by previous government anti-corruption programmes (carried out since 2002). Its main objective is to decrease the level of corruption in Poland achieved by the implementation of two specific objectives: strengthening prevention and education in the area of corruption and increasing the effective elimination of corruption crimes.

Moreover, the document sets out detailed objectives, goals and numbers of activities as well as the institutions involved in their accomplishment.
