

You are interested in economic and social affairs in Central and Eastern Europe? You are convinced that countries can learn from each other? You believe that the results of economic and social science research should have a firm place in public debate?

Then we look forward to your application for a

Paid internship to promote OECD work in the CEE region

at the OECD Berlin Centre (full time, for six months, starting January 2022).

The OECD Berlin Centre promotes the work of the OECD to policy makers, media and the public in large in Austria, Germany and Switzerland. It is now extending its activities to Central and Eastern Europe. You will be working with us in setting up a network of research organisations and stakeholders in the region to promote and discuss OECD research and findings. You will be part of a small, team, working in a nice atmosphere.

What we offer / what you will learn

- Researching and identifying potential partner institutions in the CEE region for the OECD CEE network
- Assisting in the preparation of a concept and a work programme for the OECD CEE network
- Outreach to potential partner institutions, contact management and follow-up
- Organising and managing events for the OECD CEE network
- Setting-up a web presence for the network
- Close working relations with OECD staff in Paris and with researchers and stakeholders in the region. A good opportunity to build your own network

Your background

- A bachelor degree or studies closed to graduation in economics or social science with a focus on the CEE region
- Knowledge about the political and the economic research landscape in the CEE region
- Fluent in English and one language of the region, (Polish, Czech, Slovak, Hungarian, Slovenian, Latvian, Lithuanian, Estonian), German would be a distinct asset

Interested?

Please send your CV and cover letter by November 25th 2021 to Berlin.Centre@oecd.org.

To qualify for this internship, you should be enrolled full-time at a university. We offer a contribution to subsistence of € 830 / month.
