This session will discuss the strategic priorities of countries in the Middle East and North Africa to partner for shared prosperity in a global context. In the framework of the Agenda 2030 and national reform agendas, MENA economies have made strong commitments to addressing persistent gaps in the access to social, economic and participation opportunities. Barriers to reduce these inclusive growth gaps are often related to gender, age and economic resources, among others. The session will explore how targeted policy reforms in the field of public governance and competitiveness can help address the challenges to achieve more inclusive social and economic development across the MENA region.

H.E. Mr. Moussa ABU ZEID, Head, General Personnel Council, Palestinian Authority

In the context of fast-changing realities increasingly driven by technology and data, governments and societies need to adapt their ways of working. Digitalisation holds many promises to spur innovation, generate efficiencies and improve services while boosting more inclusive and sustainable growth and enhance well-being. However, disruptions in the interactions with society and in the structure of (government) organisations and markets, raise important issues around jobs and skills, privacy, security, potential biases and inclusive access. Introducing the OECD Going Digital Project, this session will discuss the opportunities and risks of the digital transformation to partner for shared prosperity across the MENA region.
