Strengthening the Rule of Law: Effective and transparent delivery of justice and rule-making in Egypt.

STUDY VISIT: FRANCE

The objective of the study visit’s programme was to build legislative drafting capacities in the Ministry of Justice, Egypt. The study visit was addressed to representatives from the General Department of Legislation of the Ministry of Justice, Egypt. It included visits to the Ministry of Justice, the National Assembly, the Senate, the State Council, the Court of Cassation, Legifrance, the General Secretary of the Government, the Constitutional Court and the OECD. The delegates benefited from an overview of legislative drafting in the French Judicial System. They were notably introduced to a comprehensive overview of the Parliamentary legislative procedures with a focus on the safeguards of quality and inclusiveness. Moreover, the visit to the National Assembly, the State Council and the Court of Cassation allowed the delegates to understand the mission and mandate of these institutions. In addition, the delegates discussed the role of bilateral relationship between France and Egypt, as well as the French support to promote democracy and access to justice in Egypt.

This study visit to Paris, France was organised within the framework of the MENA Transition Fund of the G7 Deauville Partnership, from 21 September to 1 October 2015.
The study visit inspired the delegation to consider using Better Regulation tools such as Regulatory Impact Assessment. In this respect, the need to develop an online platform similar to Legifrance was highlighted. The discussions were instrumental regarding the priorities of the Ministry of Justice such as legislation related to the establishment and management of electronic courts, the right of access to information, legal system monitoring methodologies, a review of reconciliation and mediation legislation, and women's, youth, and children-related acts.

CHALLENGES AND PRIORITIES OF REGULATIONS

The Delegation highlighted that discussions were instrumental regarding the priorities of the Ministry of Justice such as legislation related to electronic courts, the right of access to information, legal system monitoring methodologies, a review of reconciliation and mediation legislation, and women’s, youth, and children-related acts.

LEGIFRANCE: PUBLISHING LEGAL TEXTS ONLINE

Delegates were introduced to the Legifrance, the French government entity responsible for publishing legal texts online. It provides access to laws and decrees published in the Journal Officiel, important court rulings, collective labor agreements, standards issued by European institutions, and international treaties and agreements to which France is a party. Legifrance also provides a number of useful links (to parliamentary assemblies, jurisdictions, independent administrative authorities).

RECOMMENDATIONS

The study visit has shaped further options for consideration to:

1. Finalize the mapping exercise drafted by the OECD on the Drafting of Legislation in Egypt.
2. Use Better Regulation tools such as Regulatory Impact Assessment or the Standard cost model and improved consultations.
3. Initiate a process to consider a Guide or Manual of Legislative Drafting for Egypt that can provide, among other matters, the basis for the development of a policy on regulatory quality and building capacities in policy making and legislative drafting.
4. Review a number of Regulatory Impact Assessments published in France and other countries to assess the appropriateness and relevance of the development of Regulatory Impact Assessment in Egypt.
