A Joint Programme by the Government of Egypt, the European Union, and the OECD

About the Youth Policy Shapers in Egypt

The “Youth Policy Shapers in Egypt” is a joint programme by the European Union, the National Institute for Governance and Sustainable Development, and the OECD through its MENA-OECD Governance Programme. This ambitious youth empowerment initiative is supported under the European Union funded project “Support to Enhanced Administrative and Public Economic Governance in Egypt”. The Youth Policy Shapers in Egypt will contribute to increased participation of youth to sustainable development including climate change mitigation, gender equality, and many others.

The Youth Policy Shapers invites participants (18-25 years), who benefited from the national flagship initiative “Be An Ambassador” from across all 27 governorate in Egypt. It will provide an opportunity to young people to take the lead in setting up social action projects in their communities. Young people will contribute to promote the objectives of sustainable development, including climate change mitigation and to lead concrete projects on the ground. The programme will support them in deepening their skills and to obtain extensive technical and financial support they need to implement actions that will benefit their communities.

Objective of the Youth Training

The objective of the Training will be to invite the selected participants to come together and discuss their initial ideas, following the official launch that was organised in February 2023 and based on the ideas received during the call for applications. The youth training will be an opportunity for the young selected participants to exchange their initial project ideas, build synergies and potential common project ideas. The selected participants will receive a training on the principles of Social Action Projects, soft skills and project management in order to acquire the necessary skills for the design and effective and sustainable implementation of their initiatives on the ground.
