Notes:

1. An APA is an “arrangement that determines, in advance of controlled transactions, an appropriate set of criteria (e.g. method, comparables and appropriate adjustments thereto, critical assumptions as to future events) for the determination of the transfer pricing for those transactions over a fixed period of time”. (see definition of APA in the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations (“Transfer Pricing Guidelines”).)

2. Situations may arise in which the issues resolved through an APA are relevant with respect to previous filed tax years not included within the original scope of the APA. The concept of “roll-back” is further elaborated in paragraph 4.136 of Section F (Advance pricing arrangement) of Chapter IV of the Transfer Pricing Guidelines and in paragraph 69 of Section D.4.2 (Possible retrospective application (“Roll back”)) of the Annex to Chapter IV (Guidelines for Conducting Advance Pricing Arrangements under the Mutual Agreement Procedure (“MAP APAs”)) of the Transfer Pricing Guidelines. Simply put, the “roll-back” of the APA is understood to mean that the outcome of the APA is applied to previous filed tax years not included within the original scope of the APA.

While Sections 59 to 63 of Barbados' Income Tax Act Cap. 73 outline the appellate process and the limitations relating thereto, Sections 83 (1) and 83 (4) respectively of the Act also serve to transpose Barbados' DTAs into law and in the event of an inconsistency between the provisions of the particular DTA and the Income Tax Act, the provisions of the DTA prevail to the extent of the inconsistency. Therefore, regardless of the appellate procedure and limitations provided under Sections 59 to 63, a taxpayer would not be denied access to MAP because the equivalent of Article 25(1) in Barbados' DTAs, which states that MAP access should be allowed irrespective of domestic remedies, would
