

THE OECD PRESENTS NEW
E-LEARNING COURSES
ON INTERNATIONAL TAXATION TOPICS

ABOUT E-LEARNING

The Global Relations Programme, as part of the Centre for Tax Policy and Administration, has developed e-learning courses to respond to the growing demands for training in developing countries in the tax area. It will be used as an on-line tool for full courses and also as part of a blended learning approach that combines on-line learning with the traditional classroom method.

E-learning courses will be offered free of charge to government tax officials from all countries through the Knowledge Sharing Platform on Tax Administration (KSP_{TA}). These interactive courses will give participants a solid knowledge base on key topics of international taxation, providing a certificate to those who complete them successfully.

KEY FEATURES

Free of charge

Open to all tax officials from all countries and jurisdictions

Interactive modules

Certificate provided upon completion for GRP courses
