

Webinar Series on COVID-19 & Inequality

Impact of COVID-19 on Economic Inequality and Employment Progression

with Abi Adams-Prassl, Oxford University

Tuesday 11 May 2021

4:00pm (CET)

Virtual event

Abi Adams-Prassl is Associate Professor and Senior Research Fellow at Oxford University. She is the co-founder of the Covid Inequality Project. Her group gathers real-time survey information on the labour market impacts of the pandemic to provide decision-makers with timely information on economic security and the effectiveness of policy initiatives. Her work is regularly featured in news outlets around the world and has been drawn upon by multiple UK government departments and Select Committees.

For more information, you can access her webpage here: <https://abiadams.com>.

This webinar is organised as part of a series of webinars that aim to explore the evidence base and carve a comprehensive overview of the COVID-inequality nexus in a number of areas including: income, spatial inequality, ethnicity and migration, labour, gender, child and education, mental health, environment and more.

The webinar is open to academics, statisticians, policy professionals and other experts interested or working on these topics.
